Purpose: The tech dashboard is an application that combines both front-end and back-end technologies. Users can create unique logins and make posts on technology.

Task: I built the entire app for a project. I first figures out what I needed it to look like and what data was needed to make the database work. When I finished the first step I made a working database then I took the design for the front end and implemented it with handlebars.

Technologies: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, Handlebars, MySQl.
